DOCTORATE IN PHILOSOPHY
RELIGIOUS STUDIES
SPECIALIZATION IN CANADIAN STUDIES

The Department of Classics and Religious Studies offers programs of study leading to the degrees of Master of Arts (MA) in Religious Studies and Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) in Religious Studies.

Objectives and Methods
The Department of Classics and Religious Studies (sector: Religious Studies) focuses on the study of the religious phenomenon through teaching and research in the same manner and on the same level as any other category of facts accessible to human experience and observation.

The disciplines that play a role in the study of religions are primarily of a historical, sociological, psychological and anthropological nature. Such a study must take into account the plurality of religious traditions and expressions in society and examine the relationships among them.

Research on the meaning of religious phenomena is accomplished through analysis and comparison of the various means of religious expression, both in the past and present. No tradition is considered normative.

Areas of Research
The programs focus on religions in Canada, including Amerindian and Inuit traditions, and on religions in the comparative cultural context as well as religions in the Graeco-Roman World. The comparative cultural approach provides an opportunity to explore religious phenomena across different religious traditions expressly within their specific cultural contexts. The program favours the methods of anthropology, history, psychology and sociology.

The Department participates in collaborative programs in Women’s Studies and in Medieval and Renaissance Studies at the MA level and in Canadian Studies at the PhD level. For more information on these programs, see “Apply now (http://www.grad.uottawa.ca/default.aspx?tabid=1624&Org=EBC).”

Because of its strength in relevant areas, its bilingual character and its location in the national capital, the University of Ottawa is uniquely positioned to offer a collaborative program leading to a specialization in Canadian Studies at the doctoral level. The program is especially designed for doctoral students in selected programs in the humanities and the social sciences who wish to enrich their training in a particular discipline by including an interdisciplinary component. The program is governed by the general regulations (http://www.grad.uottawa.ca/Default.aspx?tabid=1807) in effect for graduate studies.

The programs are governed by the general regulations (http://www.grad.uottawa.ca/Default.aspx?tabid=1807) in effect for graduate studies.

Admission Requirements
For the most accurate and up to date information on application deadlines, language tests and other admission requirements, please visit the specific requirements (http://www.uottawa.ca/graduate-studies/programs-admission/apply/specific-requirements) webpage.

Candidates must have a Master of Arts in Religious Studies or the equivalent, and must meet the requirements in effect for graduate studies. When they apply, candidates must indicate their preferred area of research, consult a full-time professor of the department whom they hope to have as a supervisor, and submit a two-page statement of their doctoral research project.

Official applications should be submitted by the deadlines in effect for graduate studies. Applications received after a deadline will be considered only if positions are available.

All applicants must be able to understand speak and write either English or French proficiently. Applicants whose first language is neither English nor French must provide proof of proficiency in one or the other. The list of acceptable tests is indicated in the “Admission” section of the general regulations in effect for graduate studies.

In accordance with the University of Ottawa regulation, assignments, examinations, research papers and theses can be produced in either English or French.

Collaborative Program
The doctoral program in Religious Studies participates in the collaborative program in Canadian Studies at the doctoral level. This program has been established for students wishing to enrich their training in religious studies by including an interdisciplinary component in Canadian studies. The seminar (CDN 6520 or CDN 6910) fits into the departmental course requirements and does not add to the number of courses required for the doctorate in religious studies.

Transfer from Master's to PhD
Students enrolled in the MA program may be allowed to transfer to the PhD program without being required to write a master’s thesis provided they meet the following conditions:

- Hold an honours BA in Religious Studies with a minimum average of 8.0 (A-) in the last eight relevant courses of the undergraduate transcript and a minimum of 9.0 (A) in four of these eight courses, or hold a master’s degree in a field other than religious studies;
- Have completed the mandatory MA course SRS 5915/SRS 5115 and three other MA courses with a minimum grade of A- in two courses and a minimum grade of A in two courses;
- Have completed a 40-page research paper (SRS 5999);
- Provide a written recommendation in support of the transfer from the supervisor of the research paper and from the Graduate Studies Committee;
- Provide an agreement on the part of a faculty member of the Religious Studies program to supervise the student’s doctoral thesis.

The transfer must be completed by the end of the fourth term following initial enrollment in the master’s program. Please note that the minimal admission average requirements for the doctoral program must also be met. Following transfer, all of the usual requirements of the PhD must be met: a total of 30 units of graduate coursework (MA and PhD combined); the comprehensive exam (SRS 9998); and, the thesis (SRS 9989).
Program Requirements

The doctoral program consists of 18 units in courses and directed studies, a comprehensive examination, and the writing and defence of a thesis. For students in the collaborative program in Canadian Studies, the 18 units in courses comprise:

Compulsory Courses (SRS):

- 3 course units from:
  - SRS 8115 Seminar in Religious Studies
  - SRS 8915 Seminar in Religious Studies

Thesis Proposal:

- SRS 5928 Thesis Proposal 3 Units
- 9 elective course units or directed studies at the graduate level 9 Units

Compulsory Courses (CDN):

- 3 course units from:
  - CDN 6520 Séminaire sur la francophonie canadienne
  - CDN 6910 Seminar in Canadian Studies

Comprehensive Examination

- SRS 9998 Comprehensive Examination (PhD) 0 Unit
- SRS 9989 PhD Thesis 0 Unit

Note(s)

1. Students who have completed a master's degree with thesis or the equivalent in terms of research and writing may substitute a three-unit course or directed study for SRS 5928.

The Graduate Studies Committee may require additional courses from the student depending on the nature of the research.

Comprehensive Examination

Students must successfully complete a comprehensive examination in which they demonstrate their knowledge of the general and the specific fields of research to which the doctoral thesis is related. Instructions regarding the examination can be obtained from the Director of Graduate Studies in the department.

After consulting with the research supervisor, the student shall submit a comprehensive examination proposal to the Committee of Studies for approval at least two months before the proposed examination date. After approving the plan, the Committee shall designate two examiners in addition to the research supervisor, taking into account the suggestions of the student, and set the examination date. The department shall forward a written confirmation of the examination date to the student one month in advance. Any student who decides to withdraw must advise the department in writing at least two weeks prior to the date scheduled for the examination.

Thesis

After consultation with their research supervisor, students must submit their thesis topic to the Committee of Studies for approval.

Before the end of the second year of studies, the thesis project must be presented for examination and discussion at a colloquium attended by professors and students of the department. After the colloquium, the project must be submitted to the Committee of Studies for approval.

Instructions regarding the colloquium and the thesis project can be obtained from the Director of Graduate Studies in the department.

For additional information on deadlines and on the writing, submission, examination, and revision of the thesis, please consult the general regulations in effect for graduate studies as well as the guide Preparing a Thesis or a Research Paper (http://www.grad.uottawa.ca/Default.aspx?tabid=1372).

Colloquium

Participation in the department’s regular research colloquia is compulsory for all enrolled graduate students.

Minimum Standards

The passing grade in all courses is C+. Students who fail two courses (equivalent to 6 units), the thesis proposal, or whose research progress is deemed unsatisfactory are required to withdraw.

Duration of Program

Students are expected to fulfill all requirements within four years. The maximum time permitted is six years from the date of initial enrollment in the program, or seven years in the case of the students transferring from the master’s to the doctorate.

Courses Taken Outside the Department

Subject to the approval of the director of graduate studies, students enrolled in a graduate program may receive units for two graduate courses (equivalent to six units) taken outside the department.

Research

Research Fields & Facilities

Located in the heart of Canada’s capital, a few steps away from Parliament Hill, the University of Ottawa is among Canada’s top 10 research universities.

uOttawa focuses research strengths and efforts in four Strategic Areas of Development in Research (SADRs):

- Canada and the World
- Health
- e-Society
- Molecular and Environmental Sciences

With cutting-edge research, our graduate students, researchers and educators strongly influence national and international priorities.

Research at the Faculty of Arts

The Faculty of Arts is proud of the state of the art research conducted by its professors. In the spirit of showcasing its research to the university community as well as to the general public, the Faculty has created three activities: Dean’s Lecture Series, Treasures of the Library, and Excellence Lectures.

Facilities, Research Centres and Institutes at the Faculty of Arts

Centre de recherche en civilisation canadienne-française (http://arts.uottawa.ca/crccf), Institute of Canadian and Aboriginal Studies (http://arts.uottawa.ca/canada/en), Institute for Science, Society and Health, Molecular and Environmental Sciences
