GENERAL SURGERY (GSU)

GSU 6101 General Surgery (2 units)
These courses cover the general principles of surgery and are given in blocks of two units and body response to trauma; surgical metabolism; shock; postoperative complications; principles of management of the patient with multiple injuries; wound healing and the inflammatory response; basic principles of surgical microbiology; antibiotics; general oncology; basic immunology; and organ transplantation and immunosuppression.

Course Component: Lecture