MASTER OF ARTS POLITICAL SCIENCE

The School of Political Studies offers graduate programs leading to the Graduate Diploma in Public Management and Governance, and to the degrees of Master of Arts (MA) and PhD in Political Science. The MA program is offered both full- and part-time whereas the PhD program is offered full-time only. The programs are offered in French and English.

Three options are available for the MA: the MA with thesis, the MA with research paper and the MA with research paper and coop option.

The graduate program also offers a Microprogram in Survey Research and Public Opinion to professionals. Students already admitted into the Master or Ph.D. programs in Political Science or Public Administration can complete the microprogram on an optional basis and have these credits count towards the program requirements in view of obtaining their degree (students registered in Public Administration need the approval of the Supervisor of the M.A. and Doctoral studies in Public Administration before enrolling in the microprogram). The completion of the microprogram will be mentioned in their transcript.

It is possible to follow the Master’s or the PhD program exclusively in French.

Students who enroll in their program in French (MA or PhD) must take the majority of their courses in French:

- Master’s with Thesis: students must take at least three of their required courses in French.
- Master’s with Major Research Paper (with or without the coop option): students must take at least four of their required courses in French.
- PhD: students must take at least three courses in French.

Students who enroll in their program in English (MA or PhD) must take and pass at least one of their required courses in French.

All students are permitted to hand in their assignments in French or in English. At the time of admission, students must have an active knowledge of French and a passive understanding of English. French is the working language of the School’s meetings, including those of the graduate students’ association, and in the School’s internal communications.

The department participates in the collaborative programs in Feminist and Gender Studies (at the MA level) and in Canadian Studies (at the PhD level).

The programs are governed by the academic regulations (http://www.grad.uottawa.ca/Default.aspx?tabid=1807) in effect for graduate studies.

Admission Requirements

For the most accurate and up to date information on application deadlines, language tests and other admission requirements, please visit the specific requirements (https://www.ottawa.ca/graduate-studies/programs-admission/apply/specific-requirements/) webpage.

The following are minimum requirements for admission to the master’s program. Meeting these minimal requirements alone does not guarantee acceptance. The School of Political Studies also takes into account the number of places available and the student’s aptitude for higher level research.

Students who have a BA with honours in Political Science or its equivalent with a minimum average of 70 % (B), calculated in accordance with graduate studies guidelines, may be admitted directly to the MA program.

Students who do not have a BA with honours in Political Science, but who have a BA with a minor in Political Science or a BA in a related discipline, and a minimum average of 75% (B +), may be accepted for a qualifying year, the content of which will be decided in consultation with the director of graduate studies in the political science.

An active knowledge of French or English is essential. All students admitted will have to take at least one of their courses in French, and all students must be capable of reading texts in English and French. Candidates must indicate in their application the language in which they plan to take the majority of their courses. Those students who plan to study mainly in English will have to demonstrate in their application an active knowledge of English. All students whose first language is other than English or French must provide proof in their application of their level of competence in both languages. The School of Political Studies reserves the right to require a language test for either language.

Language Requirements

Each student enrolled in the MA in Political Science must take at least one of their courses in French. Therefore, an active knowledge of French is required.

Program Requirements

Requirements for this program have been modified. Please consult the 2022-2023 calendars (https://catalogue.uottawa.ca/en/archives/) for the previous requirements.

Three options are available: the MA with thesis, the MA with research paper and the MA with research paper and coop option. The MA with major research paper (with or without the coop option), which emphasizes course work and the writing of a research paper, is offered in the areas of Canadian and Quebec politics, political thought, international relations and comparative politics. The MA with thesis is offered in all four fields of study and places greater emphasis on individual research. The individual program of study is decided in consultation with the director of graduate studies and a professor in the student's field of study, both of whom must approve it.

Fields

The master's program offers the following fields of study:

- International relations;
- Canadian and Quebec politics;
- Political thought and the analysis of ideologies;
- Comparative politics;
- Women and politics;
- Environmental politics;
- Political economy;
- Citizenship, diversity and migration.
Master's with Thesis

The MA with thesis requires the completion of 12 units of courses, a presentation and defence of the thesis proposal and a master's thesis.

Enrollment is limited to a maximum of three courses/seminars per term, not including the thesis proposal.

Compulsory Courses:

1. POL 6101 Research Methods in Political Science 3 Units
2. 3 optional course units from the chosen field of study 3 Units
   - POL 6100 Seminar in International Relations
   - POL 6118 Seminar in Comparative Politics
   - POL 6119 Seminar in Canadian, Quebec and Indigenous Politics
   - POL 6120 Seminar in Political Thought
3. 6 elective course units in political science (POL) at the graduate level 6 Units

Thesis Proposal:

1. POL 6999 Thesis Proposal
2. THM 7999 Master's Thesis

Note(s)

1. All students must successfully complete at least one course given in French.
2. Enrollment in the thesis proposal should take place preferably in the first term and at the latest in the third term.

Thesis Proposal

Students should begin the process of selecting a thesis topic and potential supervisor immediately upon commencing the program. The topic and supervisor are selected in consultation with an adviser and must be registered no later than the end of the second term in the program. Once the topic and supervisor have been chosen, the thesis proposal is prepared with the help of the supervisor.

The defence of the topic, which is the only requirement of POL 6999, must be completed before the end of the third term of enrollment (and preferably earlier). Once the topic has been defended, students are allowed to enroll for the thesis (THM 7999).

The thesis proposal could be organized in the following way:

- Statement of the research question;
- Hypotheses;
- Research methods (techniques and data to be used);
- Theoretical or practical relevance of the thesis;
- Provisional bibliography.

The thesis proposal is assessed by a committee, composed of the thesis supervisor and another professor chosen by the School of Political Studies in consultation with the student and the thesis supervisor.

Thesis

The thesis (THM 7999) can be in any one of the four fields. It is prepared in regular consultation with the supervisor and evaluated by a committee of professors.

The master's thesis should be evaluated according to the following criteria.

- Rigour of the methodology;
- Knowledge of the key scholarly literature relevant to the thesis (importance of the literature review);
- The quality of the research question;
- Analytical capacity;
- The coherence, clarity and quality of the argument, and of the writing.

Concretely, the thesis can focus on the study of one or more political phenomena narrowly defined, on the discussion of a concept, a hypothesis, or a critical analysis of an author's work. The master's thesis should be 80-120 pages (double spaced ~ 20,000 to 30,000 words), including any notes and bibliography. A thesis longer than 125 double-spaced pages (31,250 words) will not be accepted.

Master's with Research Paper

The MA with major research paper requires the completion of 18 course units and a research paper.

The maximum number of courses or seminars per term for which students are allowed to enroll is three.

Compulsory Courses:

1. POL 6101 Research Methods in Political Science 3 Units
2. 3 optional course units from the chosen field of study 3 Units
   - POL 6100 Seminar in International Relations
   - POL 6118 Seminar in Comparative Politics
   - POL 6119 Seminar in Canadian, Quebec and Indigenous Politics
   - POL 6120 Seminar in Political Thought
3. 12 elective course units in political science (POL) at the graduate level 12 Units

Research Paper:

1. MRP 6999 Major Research Paper

Note(s)

1. All students must successfully complete at least one course given in French.

Research Paper

Upon completion of 12 units, which must include the methodology course, students are permitted to enroll for the major research paper. The first enrollment normally takes place in the third term. The goal of the major research paper is to evaluate a student's capacity to complete a coherent literature review of a well-defined topic relating to a precise research question. Students are not required to do original research; rather, they are expected to analyze the relevant literature on a topic, relating to the question underlying their research.

The major research paper should demonstrate:
• The ability to conduct research;
• A knowledge of the relevant literature in the chosen topic;
• The capacity to address a research question in a coherent, structured, and well-written manner.

The major research paper, which is written under a professor’s supervision, should be about 12,000 words or 50 pages. It is evaluated by the professor as well as by another professor. Each of the two professors will assign an S or NS grade, the average of which will constitute the student’s final mark.

Transfer from Master’s to PhD
Students in the MA program at the University of Ottawa (with the exception of students in the MA with research paper and co-op option) who have performed exceptionally well academically, who have demonstrated solid research skills and who are deemed sufficiently mature, may proceed to the doctoral program without completing their master’s degree. The conditions for transfer are as follows:

• Successful completion of at least four POL graduate courses (12 units) with an A average as well as an A+ in at least one of the courses;
• Approval of the Graduate Studies Committee of the School of Political Studies. The committee makes its decision on the basis of written reports on the student’s maturity and research skills, from the student’s thesis supervisor and from the professors in the courses taken in the master’s program.

The request for transfer must be made during the third term of full-time enrollment (or equivalent), and the transfer must take place before the end of the fourth term. The Graduate Studies committee will take into account the student’s grades, thesis plan (or draft plan) and the reports from professors who taught the courses taken at the master’s.

Following the transfer, the student must successfully complete all the requirements of the PhD program. Students who transfer but do not complete the PhD program can however obtain the MA degree provided they meet all of its requirements.

Co-op Option
In collaboration with the University of Ottawa’s co-op office, a co-op option is offered to a limited number of students in the master’s with research paper. This option gives selected students the opportunity to acquire practical work experience by completing two one-term (four months) work placements.

There are two possibilities within the co-op option. One is to complete the first co-op work placement in the spring term of the first year and the second placement in the winter term of the second year. The other possibility is to complete two consecutive work placements over the spring term of the first year and the fall term of the second year. The eight-month placement enables students to engage in a longer project within the host organization and thus acquire a more valuable work experience. In both cases, students who enroll in the co-op option will obtain twelve units (six units per work placement) for their work experience and co-op reports.

Co-op students must enroll full-time and complete two work terms: FSS 6001 and FSS 6002.

Each work term is graded P/F (Pass or Fail), based on the employer’s report and on a written report completed by the student. The student reports will be evaluated by a professor in the program (who also serves as the program’s representative on the University’s Co-op Committee).

The units awarded for co-op work terms may not be used to obtain equivalences for other courses. In other words, the co-op units are additional to the minimum requirements of the MA degree.

To remain enrolled in the co-op option, students must:
• maintain full-time status;
• maintain a 7.0 grade point average;
• obtain a passing grade for each work term.

Minimum Standards
Students must maintain a minimum average of B during their master’s program. Those who receive a grade lower than B in two courses or more will be required to withdraw.

Research

Research Fields & Facilities
Located in the heart of Canada’s capital, a few steps away from Parliament Hill, the University of Ottawa is among Canada’s top 10 research universities.

uOttawa focuses research strengths and efforts in four Strategic Areas of Development in Research (SADRs):

• Canada and the World
• Health
• e-Society
• Molecular and Environmental Sciences

With cutting-edge research, our graduate students, researchers and educators strongly influence national and international priorities.

Research at the Faculty of Social Sciences
The Faculty of Social Sciences represents a place of excellence in knowledge creation, research and training. Driven by both disciplinary and interdisciplinary perspectives, research at the Faculty is rich, innovative and varied, contributing to the depth of understanding and breadth of discussions on a variety of issues nationally and internationally. This research, whether it be fundamental, theoretical, applied or action-oriented, is generated by our renowned expertise, ultimately culminating in applications designed to influence individual communities and the betterment of society.

We have identified five research themes which collectively represent a large proportion of the research undertaken at the Faculty of Social Sciences:

• International Studies
• Francophonie
• Public Policy
• Health, Well-Being
• Justice, Society
