

MICROPROGRAM IN EVALUATION OF SOCIAL AND HEALTH PROGRAMS AND POLICIES

Overview

The objective of the Microprogram on Evaluation of Social and Health Programs and Policies is to deliver advanced training in program evaluation to individuals in the public, private and not-for-profit sectors providing them with the necessary competencies to evaluate and improve their programs.

Admission Requirements

The registration process for a Microprogram depends on your student status.

Students already admitted and enrolled in a graduate program

Students wishing to pursue a graduate program must apply for, and be admitted to, their graduate program before they enroll in a second Graduate Microprogram identified within their existing program.

If you have already enrolled in a graduate studies program and would like to add the Microprogram on Evaluation of Social and Health Programs and Policies to your program of study, contact the graduate studies office of the Faculty of Social Science at scsgrad@uottawa.ca

Special students

Application deadline: August 27th

Students pursuing a Graduate Microprogram, without being admitted to or intending to complete a graduate program, must obtain the prior approval of the academic unit offering the Graduate Microprogram.

Students must meet the following eligibility:

- Applicants must hold a Honours Bachelor's degree in Social Sciences, Health Sciences, Education, or Psychology (or equivalent) with thesis (or equivalent research project) with a minimum average of 80% (A-) average calculated in accordance with the graduate studies guidelines. Applicants must have also completed undergraduate courses in research methods and statistics.
- Candidates must be able to understand, speak, and write in either French or English depending upon the language of their program. Students whose first language is neither French nor English must apply evidence of competence in one of the two official languages.
